Controlled Assessment/Exam Weighting	Coursework: worth 60% of level Externally set task: worth 40% of level

Course Description:

The skills developed through Art and Design education are integral to many roles in the creative industries. The creative sector is a collection of exciting and vibrant industries including: advertising, graphics, publishing and architecture. Collectively, the creative industries contribute £4.1 billion to the UK economy.

In BTEC Art and Design, the curriculum is designed for pupils to develop an understanding of roles and responsibilities in the creative industries through set scenarios that encourage the development of artistic skills by experimenting with a range of different processes, materials and techniques, such as printing, painting and sculptural work.

Assessment:

Component number	Component title	Level	How assessed
1	Generating ideas in Art and Design	1/2	An internally set project
2	Generating Practical Skills In Art and Design	1/2	An internally set project
3	Responding to a Client Brief	1/2	An exam project set by Pearson exam board

The three components focus on the assessment of knowledge, skills and practices. These are all essential to developing a basis for progression and, therefore, pupils need to achieve all components in order to achieve the qualification.

This course is suitable for:

An imaginative pupil with a passion for the subject. Someone who regularly draws/paints as a hobby and is a confident artist. The course is suitable for a creative problem solver and good a decision maker. A pupil willing to take risks and experiment, has good verbal and written communication skills and good time management.
